VOO joins the Air Charter Association and attends the Spring Lunch in London

18 April 2023

VOO, the B2B private jet marketplace that delivers instant bookings, has become an official member of the Air Charter Association. By meeting all the necessary requirements, VOO has become part of a worldwide network of members accredited as experienced and trustworthy professionals. Membership is effective immediately, which allows VOO to participate in the annual ACA Spring Lunch on April 20 at the Guildhall in London.

The Air Charter Association, founded in 1949, is the leading worldwide trade association for companies and individuals engaged in aircraft charter. This association is a premier source of industry information, provides expert guidance, support, training and organizes unrivaled networking events. The ACA membership reaches around the globe, with more than 70% being brokers and operators. Customers recognize the value and security of booking and managing their air charter through ACA accredited members such as VOO.

Each year the ACA hosts a number of events that bring its members together highlighting networking as the core of the aviation industry. Reflecting the significance of communication to aviation, becoming a member of the Air Charter Association was essential to VOO. As a recent ACA member, VOO will attend the annual Air Charter Spring Lunch at a traditional Livery Hall in London. More than 450 delegates will attend this year's Spring Lunch, one of the most popular networking events in the air charter industry. This event brings the industry professionals together to enjoy unparalleled networking opportunities with colleagues and build bridges between operators, brokers and industry suppliers.

CEO of VOO Flights Robert Plhak will be one of the attendees at the Spring Lunch and will introduce the VOO Marketplace to hundreds of charter business professionals. The ACA members will enjoy a networking reception followed by fine dining at the main hall and speeches from ACA Chairman and event sponsors.
